T-shirt print specification — Sanskrit Everywhere · सर्वत्र संस्कृतम्

One shirt — a plain round-neck T-shirt — and two layouts: ① the classic (the emblem on the front, the design on the back) and ② the bold (the design on the front). Choose one of the two — print either ① or ②, not both. Hand this sheet and the files to the printer.

① FRONT — the emblem

① BACK — the design

OR

② FRONT — the design

② BACK — the line

Every design works in either layout — B, C and D exactly like A above.

Exactly what to print

Print one layout only: either the two ① rows together, or the two ② rows together — not all four.

The four designs — what each is for, and the cloth

Design	What it is for	Cloth
A · सर्वत्र संस्कृतम्	The statement — the mission in six colours; the boldest.	White; black also works — the six colours glow.
B · संस्कृतम्	The quiet one — the word alone with the emblem above it.	White or soft cream; not for black (the tree fades).
C · अ	The first letter — for children and beginnings.	White; black works too — the rings glow.
D · the badge	The badge — the emblem in a rainbow ring; the formal one.	White or soft cream; not for black.

One colour for everything: white (a soft cream works too). Tell the printer the colour of the cloth — the print files are the same for all.

The files

Transparent PNGs, 300 DPI at the exact print size — the intended size is embedded in the file, so the print shop reads it straight from it. One print file per size group (`_kids_small` · `_kids` · `_women` · `_men` — see the tables above); the two pieces: `front_left_chest_emblem.png` · `back_website_line.png`. Each design has its own sheet — `<design>/<design>_PRINT_SPEC.pdf`.
